

Eisenhower Unlikely To Announce Flatly: 'I Will Run'

He May Make Self 'Available'

Full Statement To Nation Expected

Thomasville, Ga. (INS) — President Eisenhower's friends said Monday the chief executive will make no flat "I will run" statement when he announces his second term decision.

If Mr. Eisenhower's choice is affirmative, as his friends now appear convinced it will be, they expect the President to make himself available to his party conditionally, with the final decision to be made by the Republican convention next August.

Should the chief executive decide with finality against a second term, however, presidential intimates said that is such a case he will "clear the air" and make his decision known in unequivocal terms.

Opposes "Barnstorming"

Mr. Eisenhower said recently that he does not consider it proper for a man to tell the American people who should be their President, or to "barnstorm" for the job.

Friends said they expect the President to give the nation a full and lengthy explanation of his decision, whatever it may be.

An intimate said: "If the President's decision is to accept a second term race, his friends expect him to explain to the nation that, as of now, on the findings and advice of his physicians, and on his own feelings, he believes he may be able to perform the responsibilities of the presidency for another five years."

Condition May Change

He is expected to emphasize that if this condition should change at any time during the next few months, he will then so inform his party leaders and the American people.

Hagerty said he assumed Mr. Eisenhower would hold his regular Wednesday news conference on Feb. 29, after his return to Washington.

This now appears to be the most likely date for the President's second term announcement.

The President bagged eight quail and Humphrey five during two sessions of hunting—one in the morning and the other Monday afternoon.

Europe, Russia Films Shown ASME Meeting

Ralph Marlette showed slides and discussed his trip to Europe at the monthly meeting Monday night of the Nebraska Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

A movie taken in Russia by William V. Lambert, dean of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, was also shown, and Frank Kuska of Lincoln was presented an award certificate for service to the organization.

County Polio Chapter Officers Re-Elected

Morris Siegel, who has been chairman of the Lancaster County Chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis since 1952, was re-elected to the post at the annual chapter meeting Monday night. The other officers were also re-elected. They are (sitting) Mrs. John A. Brown, secretary; and George Voss, national director of chapters of the National Foundation, who spoke at the meeting, and (standing, from left) Col. Lee Liggett, vice chairman; Siegel; and A. C. Glandt, treasurer. (Star Photo.)

Salk Shots Before Polio Time Urged By Foundation Speaker

"If the Salk vaccine doesn't get out soon enough to inoculate all children before the polio season next summer, the incidence of polio may be high again," George Voss, national director of chapters for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, warned at the annual meeting of the Lancaster County Chapter Monday night.

Voss said a major task of the county chapters will be to keep the public from feeling polio has been licked.

"We have to educate the public concerning the vaccine," he said. He said the goal is to get parents to ask doctors for the shots for their children, instead of having to tell parents to have the shots given.

Lancaster County Chapter officers re-elected were: Morris Siegel, chairman; Col. Lee Liggett, vice chairman; Mrs. John A. Brown, secretary; and A. C. Glandt, treasurer.

Clara D. in reporting on the chapter's financial status, said 1955 total receipts were $26,522.76 and total disbursements $37,728.28. An excess was carried over from 1954.

Mrs. Mary Portschy, 90, of 1931 So. 10th, a Lincoln resident for the past 30 years, died Monday evening at a local hospital.

Mrs. Portschy was born in Austria-Hungary. She was a member of the German Evangelical Church at Herndon, Kans.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Susie Portschy of Lincoln, Mrs. Elizabeth Krueger of Burlington, Colo.; four sons, Paul of Beatrice, John of Herndon, Lawrence of Lincoln and Walter of Shoshoni, Wyo.; 28 grandchildren and 32 great grandchildren.

Knowland Might Enter Race Here

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) is considering entering the Nebraska presidential primary if President Eisenhower doesn't run for another term, a source close to Knowland said Monday.

No decision will be made for some time, said the source, who asked that his name not be used.

Asked what Knowland's reaction would be if Nebraska supporters undertook to enter his name, he said he assumed the senator would do nothing.

The senator, he added, had not "pulled the rug" from under those who have entered his name in primaries in Minnesota, Illinois, Alaska and New Hampshire.

Knowland himself was not available for comment.

Court Sets Red Expose Rule Aside

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals Monday set aside a decision holding that congressional committees lack authority to expose former Communists simply for the sake of exposure.

The court's eight judges vacated a 2-1 decision by a three-judge panel Jan. 26 in the contempt of Congress case of John T. Watkins, a labor leader.

In doing this, the court, acting on a government petition, called for reargument of the case before the full bench.

The contempt charge against Watkins arose from his refusal to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities the names of his onetime Red associates in the labor movement.

Watkins, who testified before the committee in April 1954 denied he had ever been a card-carrying Communist, but acknowledged he cooperated with Communists from 1942 to 1947.

House Against More 'No-Bid' Service Buys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Monday voted 372-2 to take away from the military services the blanket permission they have had since early in the Korean War to do their buying without formal advertised bids.

The bill the House passed by roll call vote and sent to the Senate provides that hereafter such a blanket exemption will be granted only when Congress declares an emergency. President Truman issued the Korean emergency proclamation on his own authority. It has never been revoked.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee, and its senior Republican member, Rep. Short of Missouri, both told the House there has been no evidence of fraud or wrongful use of the authority to negotiate contracts.

'Stop-Look-Listen' Business Phase Near, Says Economist

A "stop-look-listen" period in the American economy is expected to set in the latter part of this year, Dr. A. D. H. Kaplan, senior economist of Brookings Institution of Washington, D. C., said Monday evening at the University of Nebraska.

In Lincoln for a two-day visit Dr. Kaplan, in a series of meetings sponsored by the Department of Economics, outlined economic conditions in the nation.

The re-adjustment period he described may be painful to a few, but will be helpful to the entire economy, he said. He bases his prediction upon the large inventory backlog, consumer commitments and possibility of tighter credit.

"During this past decade of boom conditions, our thoughts naturally turn to 1929 and we ask: How can we prevent a receding or tumbling from the present peak years?" he said.

He listed these safeguards against sharp or prolonged recessions:

1. Careful examination of where we are going by closer checks on employment. We catch the soft spots sooner.

2. Production gauged to population and sales trends since producers have a procedure to see how overall business is going.

3. Government watchfulness that employment is kept high. He described declining farm income as the present soft spot—the one that needs government help now.

In all, Dr. Kaplan said, "We can be optimistic for the future."

Dr. Kaplan, addressing combined classes in economics Monday morning, said that big business has grown to its huge proportions because consumers have backed it by selecting its products for consumption.

He discussed various factors which had effect on price setting of products by large concerns. Many are so big that if they cannot get supplies for less than they can produce them, then the corporation will threaten to build its own plant to furnish these supplies.

Campaign Givers Should File Return, Sen. Smith Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal that every contributor to a political campaign be required to list his gift on his income tax return was advanced in the Senate Monday by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine).

It was endorsed by Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) Monroney also called for a complete revision of the Corrupt Practices Act to require "full and complete disclosure of all campaign contributions."

Their remarks were part of extended debate growing out of the $2,500 campaign offer to Sen. Franklin Case (R-SD), which Case rejected, during the fight over passage of the natural gas bill.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) told the Senate that the need for new legislation was brought home to the country by the Case incident.

Neuberger proposed that federal aid be given to campaigners for President and Congress, so as to "strike loose the financial fetters of our democratic processes of government."

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said he had no objection to legislation, but declared "You don't need to legislate against honest men."

"Let each senator take a good look at himself in the mirror," Capehart declared. "I don't think you can bribe a senator."

12-Year-Old Boy Admits Slaying Dad And Brother

BEATTYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — County Judge Cecil Kincaid said a 12-year-old boy, who had reported finding the charred bodies of his father and brother, confessed Monday he shot them to death, then set fire to their isolated mountain cabin near here.

The judge said William Brandenburg broke down under questioning and admitted shooting Brack Brandenburg, 65, and Luther Brandenburg, 19.

The boy gave no definite motive for the slayings last Friday, but the judge said they followed a search for money that the boy believed Luther had hidden and a scolding from the father.

The judge said William's sister, Halie, 9, confirmed the boy's story.

Exploding Heater Burns Worker, 36

OMAHA (AP) — A construction worker was burned severely in an explosion Monday in the basement of a house under construction at the western edge of the city.

Van Dasher, 36, suffered burns over half of his body. Sheriff's officers reported his clothes were set ablaze when a blast greeted his attempt to fire a propane gas heater.

Dasher was alone at the time and ran two blocks to a construction shack after getting away from the flames. Investigators said the handle of Dasher's jackknife, which was in a pocket, was melted by the fierce heat.

Dasher said he noticed the heater had gone out after he removed a tarpaulin which had been placed over the basement. When a lighted match dropped down the heater failed to start it, Dasher went into the basement and touched a match to the stove. It exploded.

Inspection Asked
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union invited Turkish experts to visit Moscow and inspect captured American weather balloons. If that is not possible, the Russians said, they would take the balloons to Turkey to prove Soviet charges the balloons were sent over the Soviet Union for aerial espionage.

CRASH NEAR CAIRO KILLS 52 PERSONS

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — A big French airliner, two engines failing at the end of a flight from Karachi, carried 52 persons to flaming death in a crash landing on the desert near Cairo Monday. Twelve others—six passengers and six crew members—escaped.

All the dead were identified by the Paris office of the airline, the privately owned Transport Aériens Intercontinentaux, as French or Vietnamese. The plane, an American-built Douglas DC6B Cloudmaster, was on the way to Paris from Saigon, South Viet Nam.

The accident came only 40 hours after a British aircraft, carrying British troops home from Egypt, crashed on the island of Malta and killed all 50 persons aboard.

State Aid Amounts Up Over Last Year

An increase in the amount of old-age assistance payments for January to $1,035,496 for 17,584 recipients was reported Monday to the Board of Control by Miss Mayme Stukel, division director. A year ago there were 18,011 recipients receiving $992,052.

Over-riding medical costs also increased to $116,494 from $95,643 last year, making an average of $6.63 per case.

Total payments for aid to dependent children involving 2,623 families and 7,264 children increased to $265,391 from $224,719 last year. Average cost per family was $101.18.

Aid to the disabled, which was added by the last Legislature, cost $43,250 for 688 cases in January as compared with 581 cases at $34,967 in December.

Council OKs Regulation Of Highlines

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

With all parties involved giving approval, the City Council has passed an ordinance on third and final reading to give it authority over construction of high voltage electrical lines in and around the city.

The ordinance had been suggested by persons who were opposed to a proposal by Nebraska Public Power System to construct a 115,000 volt transmission line around the outside of the city to the south and east.

Opponents claimed the line and accompanying steel towers would stop development in the area and depreciate the value of surrounding property.

NPPS has stated the line is necessary to give Lincoln enough electrical supply to insure against any power brown-outs this summer.

Speaking for NPPS, Attorney Robert Guenzel told the Council that his clients had no objection to the ordinance. The measure is immaterial to NPPS, he said, since the agency does not intend to build anything that does not have the approval of the City Council.

NPPS, he said, is still considering a different route for the line, further east and south. A final decision on this alternate route, he said, cannot be reached until appraisals are entered on land now being condemned for the original route.

Under the new ordinance, NPPS will have to apply to the city for a permit to construct the line.

Lincoln's One Way Street Travel High

Vehicular travel on 16th and 17th Streets at B Street is just about double the amount of travel on all rural roads of the state it was revealed in a report of traffic counters by the state highway department on Monday for the month of January.

The average 24-hour volume on rural roads was 7,552 vehicles while the two Lincoln one-way streets carried 16,019 vehicles.

Heaviest rural travel was on U.S. 6 north of Gretna where the daily count showed an average of 3,849 or 4 per cent less than was carried at the same period last year.

Travel for the state showed a decline of 3 per cent while the Lincoln streets showed an increase of 45 per cent.

Biggest increase in the state was on U.S. 6 west of Arapahoe with 14 per cent followed by U.S. 75 South of Union with 7 per cent. There was a 40 per cent increase on the county road north of Chappell and 26 per cent decline on the county road north of West Point.

U.S. 30 west of Elm Creek showed a decline of one per cent and U.S. 77 north of Fremont remained unchanged from last January. U.S. 20 showed a 4 per cent drop west of South Sioux City but a 4 per cent gain for the month east of Chadron.

Vic To Discuss Ag Problems, Vets Hospital While In D.C.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson plans to discuss two topics of importance to Nebraskans — the farm problem and the Veterans Hospital — while in Washington, D. C., this week.

Accompanying the governor will be Nebraska Legion Commander Stanley Huffman of Ewing; State V. F. W. Commander Cleon Pratt of Elgin; John Curtiss, Lincoln Chamber of Commerce official; and Byron Dunn, Lincoln banker.

Foremost in the minds of the delegation will be discussion of the proposed transfer of the Lincoln Veterans Hospital to the Air Force.

Tell Adams

They will present their opposition to this transfer to Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

Anderson added, "We feel that instead of saving money it would cost the taxpayers more. Besides that it is 12 miles from the Lincoln Air Base, and minutes are vital in case of a crash."

He added there are 178,000 veterans in the state and only 1,000 beds available. More hospitalization for older veterans will be needed in the future, he commented.

Nebraska Senators Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska and Rep. Phil Weaver will accompany the delegation to the White House.

In a meeting with Agriculture Secretary Benson, Anderson said he will talk about the "farm problem in Nebraska." The governor said he favors the soil bank program and would like to see it in force this year.

He will also tell the President's assistant that he hopes Eisenhower will run for a second term.

"The President is in a better position to bring about peace than a new man would be. And since his doctors have said his health will permit him to run, I hope he does," Anderson told newsmen and delegates at the county GOP convention Monday.

The delegation will leave for Washington Tuesday by plane.

Attempt To Condemn Alabama U Fails At School Officials' Meet

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—An attempt to put the school superintendents of the nation on record condemning the state of Alabama and the state university in the Autherine Lucy case failed to carry its first hurdle Monday.

The resolutions committee of the American Assn. of School Administrators meeting in convention here, rejected a proposal by Edward Spare, a Rutgers University research associate.

Spare's draft resolution said that "where confronted by physical force," state and university authorities "failed to enforce the opportunity of equality."

Miss Lucy, a Negro, was excluded by the university's board of trustees "until further notice" after her appearance on the campus caused demonstrations and demands that she get out.

Federal Court

She has filed suit in federal court to compel the university to re-enroll her.

Spare's proposal asked that a convention vote of censure be "spread throughout the free written and spoken press of our land."

Spare will have an opportunity to present his resolution from the convention floor Wednesday but told a reporter he would not decide until Tuesday whether to do so.

"I feel strongly that a lot of people would like to know how others feel about this matter," he said, "and that some word from this organization, composed of people who are largely responsible for American education, would be welcomed."

Rejected

The chairman of the resolutions committee, N. G. Fawcett, superintendent of schools at Columbus, Ohio, said the Spare suggestion was rejected because "Mr. Spare represented only himself, and we felt that as an organization the AASA did not care to indulge in any negative approach, nor did we care to take any action singling out any state or people."

Fawcett said he personally felt general language already in the committee's tentative report, calling for a democratic approach to education, would cover the Lucy case.

The report is to be distributed to members Tuesday and voted on Wednesday. It expresses opposition such as that proposed by Rep. Adam C. Powell (D-N.Y.), on pending federal school building aid legislation.

Participation

It also reaffirms the stand of the AASA in favor of federal participation in financing public education, along with state and local governments.

The convention received a message from President Eisenhower at about the same time the committee was meeting. It stated the President's conviction that "local communities, state governments and the federal government all have a tremendous stake in the success of our schools."

Charles N. Cadwallader, a prominent Lincoln Rotarian and businessman was reported in satisfactory condition Monday in St. Mary's Hospital in Tucson, Ariz., after he was found unconscious in the basement of his rented vacation home by friends.

Cadwallader, 77, founder of the Cadwallader fur business in Lincoln, apparently fell down the basement stairs when he became ill.

After lying unconscious for several hours he was found by friends who had a dinner engagement with him. He was rushed to the hospital where authorities said he suffered a slight skull fracture, concussions and from loss of blood.

Police Chief Joe Carroll contacted Tucson police to determine if foul play had been involved. He said Tucson police had ruled out the possibility of foul play.

Cadwallader had spent several weeks in California vacationing before he went to Tucson about two weeks ago. He was alone at the time of the accident.

His son, Ned, left to be with his father in Tucson after he learned of the accident Saturday night. Mrs. Ned Cadwallader said her father-in-law was reported conscious and alert at the hospital.

She said he apparently fell sometime Saturday night.

Two Suits Ask $55,000 Damages

In separate suits filed in Lancaster District Court, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Meisinger of Lincoln ask a total of $55,000 damages for injuries received in a two-car collision Aug. 14 on County Road 64 near Omaha.

Named defendants are Hubert L. Wood, now living in Lincoln, and Walter Engelkeimer of Murray, Neb. They are the alleged drivers of the two vehicles.

The Meisingers allege they were "invited guests" in Engelkeimer's car at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Meisinger asks $35,000 for alleged injuries, and her husband seeks $10,000 for personal injuries and $10,000 damages resulting from his wife's injuries.

Our Growing Highway Load

This week's figures given out by the Nebraska Department of Roads and Irrigation on the increased use of the state's highways serve to give the average man a clear and simple measurement of the growing magnitude of the state's problem.

The department noted that use has increased 64 per cent in 15 years. Nebraska travel during 1955 averaged 9,701,000 miles per day. In 1941 the daily average was 5,914,000. The figures were obtained from traffic counts taken at 16 strategic points.

The reader can take it from there. A 64 per cent increase means a substantial increase of wear and tear. It means more congestion. It calls for modernized roads sufficient to accommodate today's loads. It also calls for new planning for highway safety.

It also calls for an overall new look at the entire highway problem, a resetting of sights, not the least being a re-study of the state's financing power.

The state highway department could have issued more lengthy arguments to describe its responsibilities. But for terse effectiveness its report on use hands out a measuring stick that fits every hand.

At War With The Modern Age

It was an interesting story that emanated from the science laboratories of the University of Nebraska—a story telling of researchers injecting viruses into rabbits.

In more detail the story told that the animals reacted by building up antibodies converting the rabbits into living warehouses for blood serums that can be used in turn for testing young plants for the presence of the subtle viruses which annually take a toll from crop production.

How far along are the Nebraska scientists on the path to the breakthrough in their quest of bigger and better controlled crop production only the researchers themselves can say. But their progress illustrates the substantial assistance science today is giving to future Nebraska—how much modern investigative methods are contributing to the agricultural revolution. In countless areas science is assisting the farm to greater and better production, contributing to the roll-up of what Agriculture Secretary Benson describes as the nation's mounting surplus problem.

Mr. Benson is not the only one making war on plenty in the vain thought that scarcity is the good answer. But he is to be reminded that he is not pitting himself against farmers but against a combined force of enlightenment and effort that is steadily and at long last winning the long human battle for enough of everything it takes to supply human needs. His task is not that of curtailing production, but of achieving the purpose of production—wholesome distribution of it. If he is to continue his present efforts to suppress production he shall have to go farther afield than dealing with the diligent farmer. It will take a soil bank type plan to retire science and a number of other forces, too.

An Undesirable Practice

When the annual report of the city's legal department for 1955 comes out, it will show a substantial backlog of cases, pending on appeal to District Court from drunk and driving charges.

It seems as though the court makes a practice of putting aside such cases in favor of any other matters whatsoever, civil or criminal. During 1955, a total of only five drunk and driving appeals were tried before a jury in District Court.

This procedure, among other things, is not at all good for the point system. Drivers with a high accumulation of points against them are happy to see some 50 cases, as is now the situation, lined up ahead of them when they appeal a drunk and driving charge.

Chances are, by the time their case comes up, they will have lost some of their old points and the drunk and driving charge could be sustained and still leave them with few enough points to keep their driver's license. Points against a driver are dropped after two years and appeals from drunk and driving charges could take as long as a year.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

News note: "... Washington (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said Sunday that President Eisenhower's veto of the gas bill may have upset previously held Republican hopes for sufficient Senate votes to maintain farm price supports. Knowland, the Senate minority leader, said since the veto he is uncertain whether enough Republicans can be held in line to defeat a Democratic-sponsored move to restore rigid supports."

What a lousy party situation it must be if the President's veto of the gas bill—distinctly to his credit but a veto which would have been infinitely more to his credit had he said in plain, clear, unmistakable language that he did not propose to sign any bill taking an industry out of the field of regulation—is to be held over his head by angry members of his own party. Sen. Knowland may be right, and then again he may be seeing ghosts. He did want to take his share of responsibility for bringing the gas bill into advance of other legislation. He said he urged the President to sign it. Much more to the point, Sen. Knowland said he thought the bill was a part of the administration's policy. Now, how in heaven's name would Knowland get an idea of that kind? How would he become convinced as the Republican floor leader in the Senate that the President wanted this legislation? The President wanted Tidelands oil—got it. The President wanted Dixon-Yates—got it by executive directive—and then had to drop it when the going got tough. The President has been talking about this "partnership" between Uncle Sam and private enterprise ever since he took the oath of office. Sen. Knowland was wholly consistent, wholly logical, and we are inclined to think, much more aware of the ultimate course of administration policy than the President himself.

But the fact is that the administration's stand on farm policy was crumbling before the President vetoed the gas bill. Ike has no better friend on the floor of the Senate than Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas. Sen. Carlson two days in advance of the President's veto of the gas bill had announced that he would have to support the committee measure restoring the farm price support program at 90 per cent of parity.

Kansas has two crops—one above ground and one underground. Few states are more fortunate in this respect. It was our privilege to travel in Kansas from one end of the state to the other in 1952. That was the year when it produced its greatest wheat crop. It harvested 308 million bushels of wheat of fine quality. Last year it harvested 140 million bushels of wheat, due to the loss sustained through drought. Yet in 1952 with a 308-million-bushel crop of wheat, it received substantially more per bushel than it did in 1955 while producing only 40 per cent of what it harvested three years before. We are not surprised that Sen. Frank Carlson, close friend of the President that he is, announced he would have to vote for rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity. We are not surprised that after a service of more than a quarter of a century in the House, Rep. Clifford Hope, a magnificent congressman and ranking member of the Agricultural Committee of the House, is retiring after completion of his present term. We have the feeling that Rep. Hope does not see eye to eye with Secretary Benson or with the President.

Now, Sen. Knowland may feel that it was the gas bill veto which will cost the President support for the Benson program of flexible price supports. That is not what the President promised in the campaign of 1952. At Kasson, Minn., the President gave a direct, unequivocal pledge of support at 90 per cent of parity in the market places. It is that ghost—not the gas bill veto—that is putting in its appearance in rural areas where wheat farmers more and more find themselves caught in the cruel grip of a price squeeze.

Golf Leaves Ike Drawn And Tired

WASHINGTON — "The doctors then took charge. For four days they would not let me move, and during that time I not only recovered my health, I learned a lesson I did not thereafter violate: A full measure of health is basic to successful command."

The quotation comes from "Crusade In Europe," page 132. Its author: Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Particular interest attaches to it in the light of dispatches from the President's vacation spot, Thomasville, Ga., revealing that reporters thought him "drawn and tired" or said he "did not look well" after his first game of golf since his attack. They also quoted his statement to the press: "I'm a little frightened, not only of the strokes but also of myself."

The President's physician, Maj. General Snyder, at first laughed off this statement. Later he acknowledged that "sometimes it takes longer to get over the psychological injury of a heart attack."

The nature of the advice General Snyder is giving his patient about running again can be readily glimpsed. General Snyder also joined with Press Secretary Hagerty in insisting that the President "looked fine."

Another Hagerty dictum, equally questionable, is that the President carried out a "normal schedule" in his five weeks here.

The President is entitled to run again if he wishes and the country to elect him, but they are also entitled to know what they are doing. The fact is that during the President's time here nothing was decided about the great issues which require creative answers from the White House and constitute the real burden of the presidency.

These issues include: Responsible charges that the Soviet Union is outstripping this country in guided missiles. A policy to meet the Soviets' successful new line of attack on the West. A policy to avert war in the Middle East, an area in which U.S. action has been confined to the off-again, on-again, gone-again shipment of tanks to Saudi Arabia. The mystery about the President's misinformation on Dixon-Yates, a story shortly to be aired again in the court of claims.

In Hagerty's "normal schedule," ceremonies were held to a bare minimum; callers were restricted largely to men in harmony with the President and the propaganda drive to induce him to run again. His British visitors were under such wraps, they are under fire at home for their "Milquetoast results."

A big wind has been blown up about reducing the President's burdens when experienced people know only routine can be lessened, not the truly brutal load.

Here again the inescapable fact is—provided consistently by the record—that a President's second term is always harder than his first. He himself is under pressure to accomplish more to insure his place in history. His problems multiply as the date is fixed for the end of his power, both in the opposition and in his own party. Solutions postponed for study—a device Eisenhower has used more than most—knock on his door.

All in all, Eisenhower has had an easy ride in his first term. No serious observer would believe it can last.

Dixon-Yates Issue Stymied In Senate

WASHINGTON—Chief problem of the Democratic Party, rebellion in the South, rose to plague the Dixon-Yates issue, one of the best the Democrats have, during a secret session of the Senate judiciary committee.

Democratic senators led by Estes Kefauver have been pushing for the appointment of a special attorney both to defend the government in the Dixon-Yates claims suit, and to prosecute those guilty of any Dixon-Yates conflict of interest. There appears to be a clear-cut case of fingling inside the budget bureau with Adolphe Wenzel placed inside the government to push and later finance the Dixon-Yates deal.

So far, Attorney General Brownell has not made the slightest move toward prosecution. So Democratic senators want to appoint a special attorney.

There is precedent for this in the appointment of Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene to prosecute the Teapot Dome scandal.

STORMY SECRET SESSION

Here is what happened during a stormy session of the judiciary committee when Senator Kefauver attempted to push through his resolution for separate counsel to prosecute Dixon-Yates.

"Let me get down to the meat of the coconut," said Kefauver, reading from the pro-Dixon-Yates testimony given before the Securities and Exchange Commission by the Justice Department.

"Having twice gone on record in favor of Dixon-Yates," Kefauver argued, "the Justice Department should be disqualifed from defending the government in the damage suit brought to recover $3,500,000 in cancellation charges."

However, when Kefauver tried to enter the Justice Department testimony as evidence, Senator Butler objected.

"Only these specific pages?" asked Butler. "Only two pages?"

"I offer a substitute motion," suggested McClelland, backing up Butler. "That all the records of the SEC be procured and filed for reference in this committee."

This would have made the record so voluminous it would be too expensive to publish and no one would have read it anyway.

"We should also have as part of this record before the committee all of the hearings in the anti-monopoly subcommittee," added Butler, complicating matters even further.

WATKINS SHOOTS FAIR

Finally, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) came to Kefauver's defense. Pleading for fair play, he demanded that the Tennessee Senator be allowed to state his case.

"I think probably we ought to hear the evidence," said the square-shooting Watkins. "I would not want to object to him bringing in evidence. I want at least to consider it."

Butler was still adamant, however, so Chairman Harley M. Kilgore (D-W Va) tried to change the subject by shifting to other committee business.

Butler wouldn't hear of it. "I insist that we continue with this business," he declared. "I object. Let us go on with this."

So Kefauver resumed the presentation of his argument, this time questioning Assistant Attorney General Warren E. Burger.

"The executive departments have denied us certain records and statements," said Kefauver, "on the grounds that they are privileged. Are you going to insist and bring out in the defense of the government these matters?"

"I can best answer that," replied Burger, "by saying that the staff lawyers in charge of this case will do everything that they think is honorable and proper to do to win this lawsuit."

"Even to the point of embarrassing Mr. Sherman Adams and Rowland Hughes and Admiral Strauss?" quipped Kefauver, referring to the fact that both had refused to testify in earlier Dixon-Yates hearings.

"I will stand by my first statement," Burger responded.

Democratic Paper Starts In Viet Nam

NEW YORK — Vol. 1, No. 1 of the "Times of Viet Nam" has just reached this desk. It is the first English language paper ever printed in a seething area where Communist aggression (highly successful) brought us to what Mr. Dulles later described as the brink of war.

The maiden issue features a definition of democracy which might have been written by Nguyen M. Thai, the weekly's editor and publisher, Le Ngo, Nhi, senior editor, or Nguyen Van Thai, feature editor. Then again, it might have been written by Thomas Jefferson. T.J. would have been foggy if asked about that part of the world in his time, but he certainly would have stood behind the pen of the Viet Namese who told his long-exploited people:

"We have heard men in public life say, 'I am very democratic. I thoroughly enjoy a good talk with a peasant.' It is hard to see what this has to do with democracy. Democracy is faith in humanity, not faith in the 'poor' or the 'working' people. It is faith in every living soul. Contrary to some doctrines enjoying currency in the world today, democracy does not en throne the working man any more than it enthrones the bourgeoisie."

Vice President Nixon made a special effort Saturday night at the radio and TV correspondents dinner in Washington to point out that Chief Justice Earl Warren (who was present) was beyond the claim of any political party. It was Nixon's effort to counteract the unhappy response to his statement last week concerning the role of a "Republican Chief Justice" in the integration fight. But the counter attack will need a much bigger rostrum than the correspondents could offer.

FOUR KINGS AND A CHILD

Stories From The Life Of Jesus

creamy with interest. "And what about this Child?"

"We cannot say till we find Him," said Melchior.

"Where do you expect to find Him?" growled Herod.

"Bethlehem!"

"Bethlehem. But it is only a small country place!"

The Wise Men shrugged. "We can only follow the star. Tonight we will go on, following it. Where it leads us, we go."

Then Herod had an idea to trap the Wise Men. "Go and find the Child," he said, "and then come back and tell me and I will go and worship Him, too."

The Wise Men found the town and the inn, and the star led them straight to the stable. They knelt beside the manger, and their eyes were full of love and glory as they gazed upon Mary's baby, Jesus the Son of God.

And then Caspar and Melchior and Balthazar each left a gift by the manger, and went out again into the night. While they slept they dreamed, all of them the same dream, warning them not to go to Herod, but to go straight to their own country by a different road. Because of that dream they rose in the middle of the night and mounted their camels and rode away.

That same night Joseph had a dream, even more strange. An angel came to him and said: "Get up and take the Child and His mother and go quickly into Egypt, and stay until I tell you. Because Herod is looking for the Child, hoping to kill Him!"

Joseph leaped from his bed. But now could they go to Egypt? It was many weeks' journey to Egypt. They would need money to travel so far, and he had only a few coins left.

Through the darkness he saw Joachim, his father-in-law, coming toward him.

"Joseph, I could not sleep. And so I unpacked the gifts the Wise Men left for the Child. Do you know what they brought?"

Joseph shook his head.

"Look," said Joachim. "Here is frankincense—the most perfect perfume of all. And myrrh, the fragrant spice. And here—here is gold!"

"Gold?" Joseph leaned closer to see. "Joachim, it is as if God knew we would need it, and sent it so we could do what His angel said!"

In the blackness of night Joseph woke Mary and put her and her baby on the donkey's back, and tied the bundles of their clothes and goods to the saddle. Staff in one hand, Joseph took the donkey reins with the other. They were taking the road to Egypt.

When King Herod heard that the Wise Men had disappeared without telling him where the Baby was, he screamed with anger.

And then a horrible idea came to Herod, an idea so terrifying that even he grew pale at the thought. If he killed all the babies in Bethlehem he would be safe from the Child who was the Prince of Peace.

Herod's soldiers went to Bethlehem with swords and spears. Not one of those holy innocents was spared.

But Herod could not hurt the infant Jesus.

For God had warned Joseph, and Joseph had done just as the angel had said. The holy family was safely on the long road into Egypt.

Traffic Protest

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: While returning home from a show, I made a left turn on 13th and N at 10 p.m. There was no traffic and the corner was not well lighted. I didn't see the sign because of the darkness. Of course, I was stopped and given a ticket.

Perhaps I shouldn't complain, but nevertheless I am. I go to Ag College and am not familiar with the traffic rules of downtown Lincoln. The officer paid no heed to my statement of not seeing or expecting to see a "No Left Turn" sign. He has "heard that before." But this time it was true.

I was asked when it would be convenient for me to appear in court, I replied, on a Friday. Of course, to be very accommodating, he set the date for a Monday which will conflict with my class schedule. I didn't notice the blunder until I looked over the ticket later.

I think that, had I made the turn in daylight with the sign in view, I would have deserved a ticket. But this I can't see.

DISRUPTED STUDENT

Editor's note: We assume that the writer will set forth all of the facts in court.

Press Censorship

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The pending trial of the Lincoln News Agency for selling "indecent" magazines should be recognized for what it is—censorship. No doubt the magazines named (which I have not seen) are in the worst of taste. But no police officer should be in a position to bring pressure on a news agency to restrict its offerings. If one court action is successful, experience has shown that the mere threat of such action thereafter is enough to intimidate the agency.

From that point it is only a short step to the police-censorship of paperback copies of "T o b a c c o Road." Off to a fast start, the ghost of Anthony Comstock rides again. Where matters of taste and opinion are involved, censorship had no place. It should be stopped before it gets started.

The censors always begin with a vulnerable case, which few citizens feel called upon to defend. But most adults will prefer to draw their own line between the defensible and the indefensible. We do not wish a police officer to draw this line for us.

The censorship of magazines that are purchased and read by adults, censored ostensibly in the interest of juvenile morals, is a very questionable measure. It is quite possible that Mr. Gade's zeal has outrun his judgment. He may not have thought through all the implications of his action. The counsel of the American Civil Liberties Union should be sought before this thing goes any further.

JOHN B. WHITE,

The Almighty Dollar

Anselmo, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems that our men in high places are the same as men in low places. Where the money is, that is the way they will go. No man seems able to get his mind above the Almighty Dollar. Perhaps it has always been so. Our Lord was betrayed for 30 pieces of silver, but we used to think we were getting on a higher plane, that man's mind was getting above dollars and cents.

We used to make laws to control monopolies to try to protect the common people. Now we make laws only to favor those that have. Really, we are trying to do away with laws that protect common people.

Probably we will think it was a mistake, our regulating Standard Oil and big oil companies; they were so efficient. Smaller companies that weren't so efficient could have quit, just moved to a farm or something—gone, to raising peanuts perhaps. A few of the largest, more efficient oil companies could furnish us enough oil.

But instead of that we regulated the big companies so all could operate. We regulated railroads and other things instead of allowing them to charge all the traffic would bear.

The great state of Texas was so provoked that they prohibited Standard Oil from operating in the state, so the name was changed.

ED FITZHUGH

A Cheap Dollar Bill On Today's Market

The United States is trying to make its $1 bills last longer. This is an effort, the irony of which needs almost no comment. Who isn't?

It cannot be denied, however, that the Treasury, which in this case represents the United States, has a different slant. The Treasury people want more mileage out of the dollar bills because the pesky things cost money. About eight-tenths of a cent each.

This was a bit of intelligence which appealed greatly to me, because at the time I heard it there was a strong desire in my heart for a new automatic shotgun, considering that the old one cannot hit ducks, geese or pheasants worth a toot.

"Look at this way," I suggested to Mrs. F. "If the tag on a new shotgun says $100, and the going rate on a dollar bill is eight-tenths of a cent, that means I get the new shotgun for about 80 cents. A man would be insane to pass up a bargain like that."

The principle obstacle in the way of my crushing logic was that Mrs. F. was familiar with the Treasury's troubles, too.

"All this would be only too beautifully true," she pointed out, "except for two things. Firstly, you do not have the mass purchasing power needed to knock the price of a dollar down to eight-tenths of a cent. The government gets the bills printed at the rate of over a billion a year, and you do not have the experience to handle that much money. Not to mention the cash to pay the printing bill."

The discussion had taken a turn which was sure to lead in the wrong direction, and I hastily shutted it in another direction.

"What was the second objection," I asked coldly.

"The second objection," she enumerated, "is that, small as it is, the children and I would miss your paycheck dreadfully if you got put in the clinic for counterfeiting, and considering the government monopoly on printing dollar bills, there doesn't seem to be any other way you could get them for eight-tenths of a cent."

That was the trouble with government, I remarked bitterly. You let it get started in something, and first thing you know, it's got the private monopolies beat 10 ways from scratch.

Short 2 Year Enlistment

The Marines have recently instituted a new enlistment policy whereby qualified young men can enlist for a short term of two years. In the past, enlistments in the Marine Corps have been for a three or four year period. Men enlisting for this two-year program are sent to San Diego, California for recruit training, and they are eligible for assignment to one of the approximately one hundred and fifty service schools available to Marines.

The general qualifications for the two year program are: be between the ages of seventeen and twenty-six, be physically, mentally, and morally qualified for enlistment in the Marine Corps; have no previous military service other than in a reserve component, and have not more than one dependent. Groups of men enlisting under this program will be sent to San Diego together, go through recruit training together, and in all probability, return home on recruit leave together.

History U. S. MARINES

On November 10, 1775, the Continental Congress authorized the existence of the Marine Corps. In the very first year of its existence, the Continental Marine Corps undertook an amphibious landing at New Providence in the Bahamas. This was a highly successful operation in which a vast quantity of sorely needed military supplies were seized. Marines fought with distinction throughout the Revolutionary War, both on the land with General Washington's forces and aboard the ships of our Continental Navy.

In the early nineteenth century, Marines participated in the operations against the Barbary Coast pirates. This action is commemorated in the lines of the Marines Hymn—"To The Shores of Tripoli."

During World War I, the Marine Corps reached a peak strength of 75,000 men. Of this number, over 31,000 served as part of the ground forces of the A.E.F.

During World War II, Marines made history at such places as Guadalcanal, Tarawa, Saipan, and Iwo Jima.

Today, the Marine Corps is a highly trained land, sea, and air team with units stationed throughout the world.

Vic Praises Ike's Ag Plan To County GOP

Gov. Victor Anderson praised Eisenhower's farm program Monday as county Republicans picked representatives for the state's GOP pre-primary convention in Omaha on March 19.

The state meeting will be held in conjunction with Founders Day. Delegates then are expected to decide whether to continue the pre-primary convention at the state level.

The duty of the delegates in March will be the electing of a new national committeeman to replace Abel Shotwell, who announced he plans to retire from the job.

May Be Last

Chauncey Barney, Republican county chairman, said the county convention may be the last of its kind, since the law calling for pre-primary conventions has been repealed.

The county delegates named were chosen from the county's three legislative districts, with the number of delegates decided by votes cast for governor in the last general election.

Margaret Truman Says 'Never Again' After First Literary Try

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Margaret Truman, on the eve of publication of her first literary effort, an autobiography, says she will permanently retire from the writing field.

"Never again!" said Miss Truman, firmly and with an expression akin to distaste.

This, apparently, is a month of decision for the daughter of former President Truman. At the end of the week, Miss Truman also will retire from network radio, after a 16-week stint. Since early November she has acted as mistress of ceremonies and majorette domo of a magazine-type program, "Week Day," on the air 5½ hours a day.

To Do TV, Says She

"I'm going to do television," continued Miss Truman. "I like to do television and you can't do both. Besides, with television, you don't have to start work so early in the morning—and I'm not like my father that way. Not at all."

Miss Truman, in Washington for a party in her honor, said that she found writing her memoirs one of the most difficult tasks she's ever encountered. A taste for privacy is strong in her, she explained, and sometimes she found it harrowing to relate even the most casual occurrences when she knew it would be read by strangers. What helped, she said, was her habit of keeping diaries.

Spotlight on Romance

In the first of a three-part series appearing in the current issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, Miss Truman touches wryly on the disadvantages and problems of being an "eligible" and spotlighted girl living in the White House. One definite discourager of romance was the constant presence of a Secret Service man.

"The press," she writes, "yearned to get me married or at least engaged. There were times when I may have felt wistful to go along with this program, if only because it offered the chance of becoming a private citizen again, but actually I made up my mind early that I would not marry when I lived in the White House."

Besides, she adds:

"Consider the effect of saying good night to a boy at the door of the White House in a blaze of floodlights, with a Secret Service man in attendance.

"There's not much you can do except shake hands, and that's no way to get engaged!"

"It has always amazed me when I think of how many people I've been rumored engaged to," Miss Truman told an interviewer. "One night recently I went to the theater with a young man and said hello to a columnist when I didn't even think my escort was around. The next day, of course, there was a romance item with his name right down to the middle initial."

Strangest One

"The strangest one of all, though, was a printed report of my engagement to an upstate New York editor whom I had never even met. He finally telephoned me long distance and told me a little nervously that he did have a fiancée named Margaret and that she wasn't taking the news any too well. But we couldn't figure out where the story started."

Any romance at the moment? Miss Truman smiled.

"I've been in politics long enough," she said, "to have learned how to chatter a lot and to say nothing."

Merger Sought For Two Butler School Districts

Lincoln Star Special

DAVID CITY, Neb. — A hearing will be held Tuesday, Feb. 23, at the Butler County Courthouse on petitions requesting the merger of school District 63 and School District 44.

County Supt. Herman Liska fixed the hearing time at 10 a.m. after receipt of petitions from legal voters in the two districts. A total of 56 out of 62 qualified voters in District 44 signed the petition for that district, and 15 of 21 voters in District 63 signed their petition, Liska said.

Currently, District 63 is contracting with District 68, David City, and on the basis of third-day reports to the County Superintendent's office, there are five District 63 children now attending school here. District 68 is directly north of David City.

District 44 has six students enrolled, according to the third-day reports, and the teacher is Mrs. Edna Zeilinger. It is located northwest of David City.

Jet Plane Knocks Peer Out Of Bed

LONDON (INS) — A Royal Air Force jet plane streaked through the sound barrier and the resulting "sonic bang" blew an elderly peer of the realm out of bed.

Lord Charles Ian Teyiot, 81, of Newberry, protested vigorously in the House of Lords. When he complained, the indignant peer added, the Air Force added insult to injury by asking him the type and number of the offending airplane.

"I was blown out of bed," he declared, "everything was blown out and the curtains were blown all over the place. How on earth was I to say what kind of plane it was or what its number was?"

"That sort of thing is irritating beyond words."

POSTCARD

In the late afternoon we drove from Queretaro to Guanajuato, in the old colonial route of Mexico, and checked into the hilltop Hotel Castillo. It was late evening and the frogs set up a spirited croaking. Apparently to justify the Indian name of the town which means "Hill of the Frogs."

The waiter said there were many sights to be seen.

"Have you seen the Hooks?"

"What hooks?"

"Where they hung the heads of Señor Hidalgo and his lieutenants?"

So in the morning, we went down to the beautiful old Alhondiga where the hooks are still fixed in the four corners. The very hooks where they hung the heads of the first patriots of Independence.

This is witch country and I asked the caretaker where I could find a witch.

"In Mexico, Señor, all the best witches go to Mexico City."

"Why Mexico?"

"For the night clubs."

"The witches hang around night clubs?"

"Where else would they encounter the people?"

My driver was a hep boy from Mexico City. He straightened me out.

"He did not mean the true brujas. The ones that ride on a broom. He means the cabaretas. The night club girls. In Mexico, we call the night club girl a witch, a bruja."

"Why do you call them that?"

"Because they do men wrong. And when a girl asks you for something, like a present, you say to her: 'Brujas to me? No, Señor!'"

He said the best witch country in Mexico was around Dolores Hidalgo, a few miles away.

It was in Dolores Hidalgo that the parish priest Hidalgo raised the cry of Independence on September 16, 1810. "Viva la Independencia! Viva Mexico! Death to bad Government!"

"The true bruja is just like you or me," said the driver. "You cannot tell them from others. But in the night, they ride through the air like a star. You must then recite 'La Magnificat,' a religious oration, and this forces them to come down so that you can recognize them."

"What happens then?"

"Then the people burn them."

He said there was also another type called hechizeras who operated particularly around Vera Cruz. They specialized in love charms.

"But you must take care. For if the person knows they are bewitched, they go to another hechizera with more power. One who can turn the bewitchment back upon you."

It sounded like nerve-wracking business. I asked the desk clerk if he had any witches around. He was used to tourist inquiries and suggested I ask the "rotating Senorita." I found later this meant the secretary of the Rotary club. And I doubted if they would have a witch file.

There was a very pretty waitress at dinner and the driver looked at her admiringly and said she was a true bruja. I do not think he meant the kind that you burn, either.

FROM where we sit the town seems to be busy with plan for late week and the week to come—Just heard that the members of a Charades group who meet once each month for dinner and an evening of charades, will be out and about on Saturday evening—The Charaders will dine and perform at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Purvis, and in the group will be Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Sowles, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hillyer, Mr. and Mrs. Don Shurtliff and Mr. and Mrs. John Van Bloom.

AND next Monday Mrs. Sidney Bradley will be a morning coffee hostess at her home when she honors Mrs. Robert Larson of Lima, Peru, who is the house guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Petrus Peterson.

BACK in town are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Southwick who have just returned from Bellaire, Tex. (a suburb of Houston) where they were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Southwick and their children, Tommy, Philip and Leslie.

We Hear That

Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Wilkinson are the parents of a son, Thomas Alan, who was born on Tuesday, Feb. 14, at Lincoln General Hospital. The baby has a brother, John, who is eight, and a sister, Mary Jo, three, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wilkinson and Mrs. Almeda Ludwig. Mrs. Wilkinson is the former Shirley Jo Ludwig.

—did you know that if you carry a little less air in the rear tires of your car during the ice and snow that they grip the road better?

—also power brakes and power steering can cause trouble in driving on snow and ice. Starting, stopping, or changing direction too suddenly causes many damaging and sometimes fatal skids. In starting feed the gas slowly to avoid spinning the wheels. In stopping don't freeze on the brake pedal. Practice pumping the pedal rapidly, several times a second. In a skid, release the brakes.

—sometimes one wonders if practical jokes aren't carried too far. A young Lincoln matron visiting in another city on Valentine's Day received both a lovely corsage and a telegram purportedly from her husband. On returning home she found that a couple of close friends of her husband's had sent the flowers and the telegram and both were charged to his account. The question now is who is more angry—the husband or the wife.

—oh, for the life of an executive! One of the leading airlines has a flight each day between New York and Chicago for the accommodation of men only. Special features include the prettiest hostesses, pre-dinner refreshments, a fine steak, the privilege of removing shoes during flight, smoking cigars and pipes, and a special complimentary box of candy for each passenger.

Red Cross To Entertain

Volunteer Red Cross workers will entertain at a 2 o'clock coffee Tuesday afternoon in the party room of the First Federal Building with presidents of Lincoln organizations as guests.

A discussion of the needs for volunteer services at the State Mental Hospital will be led by Mrs. Louise Breckinridge, hospital activities director, who will tell how volunteers may help the patients through the Red Cross or by means of entire organizations.

Representatives from any organizations who are interested in serving at the hospital are invited to attend the coffee which was arranged by Mrs. John Scofield, Red Cross service groups chairman, and Mrs. J. P. Colbert, recruitment chairman.

Refreshments will be served by the canteen service and service group volunteers will be hostesses.

Fremont Pedestrian Killed In Accident

Death Brings '56 Fatality Toll To 37

By The Associated Press
A Fremont woman was killed Monday and three other persons died over the weekend in Nebraska traffic accidents. Seven were injured.
Mrs. Louise E. Byrne, 68, Fremont, was killed as she crossed a Fremont street at a residential intersection.
Police said the driver of the car, Robert Church, 18, also of Fremont, said he did not see the woman.
Earlier victims were Jesse Rodriguez, 4, Scottsbluff; his father, Jubencio, and Don Alden Anderson, 23, Newman Grove.
The elder Rodriguez died in a Scottsbluff hospital.
Inquest Ordered
County Attorney William Line said an inquest would be held in the Fremont accident Tuesday.
Anderson was killed and five other men injured in a two-car accident five miles west of Millard.
Young Rodriguez was killed and his father, Jubencio, and his sister Mrs. Rosa Palencio, 17, Scottsbluff were critically hurt in the accident a mile west of Scottsbluff on Highway 26.
Highway Patrolman Elmer Kometscher said a car driven by Cleve R. Charts made public by the House Appropriations subcommittee after recent hearings also show that taxes paid on farm real estate and personal property in Nebraska increased 144 per cent in the 1945-55 period as compared to the national average of 125 per cent.
Nebraska showed an increase of one per cent in the farm-mortgage debt as compared to the national average of 65 per cent. Only North Dakota—which decreased nine per cent—had a better record. Florida was high with 339 per cent.

Bringing Up Baby

Nice letter from a column-reading recently broke her right leg, which was promptly placed in a cast—much to her complete frustration. But then, happily for the baby, a delightful 70-year-old neighbor bought a doll and made a cast (plaster of Paris and water) for the doll's right leg. Liza was delighted—forgot to whimper—and is nursing dolly nicely. "Wonderful psychology! And it would probably work just as well with a bandage for a minor injury."

Small-fry luncheon suggestion that's so good you may well want to share this with your pride and joy.

Milk—Crisp wafers

Gerber Junior Chicken Noodle Dinner is a wonderfully tasty combination of delicate chicken, light-as-air egg noodles, bright carrot bits and savory chicken broth.

Gerber Junior Fruit Dessert is a beautifully balanced blend of plump, ripe apricots, delicate orange juice and mellow pineapple juice—textured with a touch of tapioca for just about the nicest dessert imaginable.

Cute "train" of thought. How about making a cost-nothing train for your toddler? Take several empty Gerber Cereal boxes (small or large). String 'em together, leaving a good length at one end for pulling purposes. Makes a bright-colored "choo-choo" worth hours and hours of fun.

Keeping tabs. Strong colors for your tot's outdoor tops make it easier to keep tabs on your wanderer. Tiny tinkle bells, sewed to baby's shoes, will keep you attuned to his whereabouts. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Boer

We are fascinated by the Machiavellian capers of presidential semesters. Both sides figure the ends justify the means and let the best man win.

When the facts interfere with the truth

Little old Harry Truman isn't behind the towel-rack when they start the season by heaving an oratorical donk through the rear-view mirror.

In the sport of kings the horse-flies bite the favorite in the stall. In the sport of Presidents they chase him around the track.

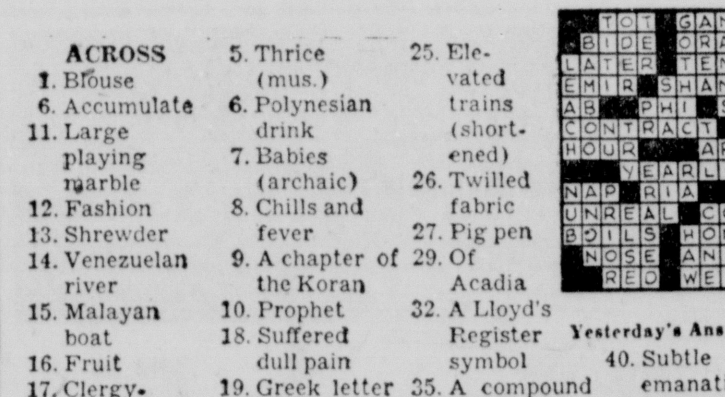

We've done fairly well considering we nominate our executives in the middle of heat waves, vote for 'em in the rainy season and inaugurate 'em in blizzards.

That's the democratic way of life. Except when the Republicans are in.

Leads Held By South, Cozad 5's

By RON GIBSON

As Class AA and A basketball teams fly down the pre-tournament stretch, these two points stand out clearly:

1. Omaha South is the team to beat in Class AA.
2. There may be five teams to beat in Class A, although Cozad still leads the pack in the Star's ratings.

South lost to Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs last week and later shellacked Lincoln High. The Packers lost no ground and little prestige; second-place Scottsbluff had an 11-game win streak broken by Cheyenne, Wyoming's number one team.

Hastings was responsible for the biggest change in the static Class AA chart, entering the Top Ten for the first time since early in the season. Most of the double-A leaders held firm.

But in Class A the race turned into a humdrum. Cozad, Gering and Ogallala stand out as the three toughest, but Falls City, Seward and Ord may prove just as strong as state tournament time approaches—and Columbus may have profited by playing a strong schedule.

This is the last week of regular-season play for Class AA and A teams before district tournaments, which are Feb. 27-March 3.

Cozad, Ogallala and Gering—one-two-three in the Star's ratings—are in the same district at Ogallala.

Last week Ogallala beat Cozad, 68-67, to end a 14-game win streak. Earlier, Gering beat Ogallala 45-43 on two late free throws. Ogallala's win over Cozad came on a last-ditch shot. Thus the three teams appear evenly matched.

The only changes in this week's chart are the advance of Ogallala to second, the spot formerly occupied by Gering, and the entry of Omaha Westside at 10th. Crete dropped out.

The Class AA chart remained comparatively unchanged. Hastings continued its late-season surge and entered the chart at seventh ahead of Grand Island. Omaha Tech, 10th last week, gave way and Lincoln High fell from ninth to 10th.

The last week of pre-tournament action includes some games which will have bearing on the final AA ratings. Games of importance, this week match Scottsbluff (2nd) and Fremont (5th); Boys Town (3rd) and Northeast (6th); and Omaha Tech and Omaha Central (4th).

Forty basketball teams are enrolled in the University of North Dakota intramural sports program directed by Harold (Pinky) Kraft.

Nebraska Wesleyan's Plainsmen make their final home appearance tonight when the Peru State Bobcats invade Taylor gymnasium. Game time is 7:30.

Meet Directors Told To Bar Wes Santee Or Lose Sanction

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union Monday night advised track meet directors their organizations will lose AAU sanction "forever" if they permit Wes Santee to compete, even if the premier American mile runner succeeds in obtaining a court injunction against his lifetime ban as an amateur.

The AAU announcement also said any athlete participating in any meet in which Santee was allowed to compete would "jeopardize" his amateur standing.

Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, said the meet directors had been told the consequences of allowing Santee to compete in an official telegram signed by Ferris. Only a few hours earlier, Santee's attorney had said he expected "quick action" on his attempts to have the courts nullify the ban imposed by the executive committee of the AAU Sunday.

The Ferris telegram, sent to "directors of indoor meets scheduled in the next several weeks," said: "This is to inform you officially that Wes Santee has been suspended by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and therefore is not eligible to compete in any AAU sanctioned event under any conditions. Violation of this ruling will jeopardize the amateur standing of all athletes participating in the meets and will render your organization forever ineligible for further AAU sanction."

Ferris explained the phrase "under any conditions," by saying "that in the case some one should obtain an injunction" against the AAU ban. He did not mention Grimes or Santee by name.

Barred From Olympics
He added that the official announcement had been sent to the meet directors so "no one can say they didn't know of the suspension."

Santee's attorney, Charles P. Grimes, earlier said "I plan to draw up papers in the next couple of days and will file for an injunction in either the state supreme court of New York or a federal court—I haven't decided which."

"I have advised Santee to stay in training. I don't expect a long, drawnout procedure, and I want him to be ready to run."

Santee, whose 4:00.5 mile is the fastest ever run by an American, was barred from future track meets and also from Olympic competition.

He was accused of taking some $1,500 over allowable expenses in a series of track meets last summer.

Utica, Rising City Trough Foes

SEWARD—Utica rolled over Shelby 62-38 and Rising City whipped Dwight Assumption, 60-28, to gain first-round victories in the Class D tourney here.

In the evening's opener, Utica moved fast and caught Shelby to rack up a halftime score of 44-26. Lyle Buell's Tigers coasted on to their easy victory.

Rising City defeated Dwight Assumption in the only other game on tap, 60-28, in another run away game.

Assumption held Rising City to a fairly mild pace in the first half but in the last two periods, Rising City's quiet opened up, holding the Blue Jays to only four points.

Four games involving Class AA and A schools are on tonight's high school basketball program.

North Platte visits favored Northeast in the headliner. Beatrice is favored over visiting Fairbury, and must win to retain a chance for the Twin Rivers crown. Ogallala is host to Alliance and Bellvue visits Plattsmouth.

Uni High Hits Ralston; 'Birds Stop David City

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

WAHOO—University High and Cathedral won their first round games here Monday in the Class B district tournament to setup an all-Lincoln semifinal game Thursday night.

University beat Ralston, 58-35, and Cathedral went all out to get by David City, 48-43.

The top-seeded Tutors hit eight of their first 11 shots from the field and were in command all the way.

Sophomore Jim Huger and Marvin Bauer and Bill Hunsaker were the leaders. Huger scored 16 points—all on field goals—while Hunsaker and Bauer got 15 and 13.

The Tutors rushed to a 10-0 lead and were never threatened except once midway in the second quarter when Ralston pulled up, 23-18, on a shot by Dwight Johnson.

The Tutors pulled away to a 35-18 halftime lead on three field goals by Hunsaker and two by Huger.

University High made 16 field goals in the first half.

The Tutors' fast break and alert defense clicked in the third quarter and University ran the lead to 52-26. Substitutes played most of the last quarter.

Johnson was Ralston's high scorer with 20 points.

Cathedral almost blew a 13-point lead as hustling David City used a press defense to pester the Bluebirds.

Cathedral led, 21-8 at the end of the first quarter. Big Tony Davis came off the bench and sparked a David City comeback which cut the margin 29-22 at halftime.

In the third quarter Terry Vavrina hit nine points for David City and Cathedral held only a 38-35 third period lead.

The Scouts cut the lead to one point in the last period but Jim Cripe, Cathedral's high scorer, and sub Dean Aensdorf combined to pull Cathedral out of trouble.

A free throw by Cripe and a driving layup by Aensdorf gave the "Birds the upper hand again."

Vavrina was David City's high point man with 23. Cathedral was led by Cripe, who scored 16, and Kobza, who hit 12 and did a good rebounding job.

Tuesday night's games match Valley and Ashland at 6:30 p.m., and Papillion and David City at 8:15 p.m.

Tigers Paste I-State, 73-66

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Missouri guard Norm Stewart poured in 37 points Monday night to lead the Tigers to a 73-66 Big 7 basketball victory over Iowa State, tied until this loss with Kansas State for the conference lead. Missouri led from early in the first half in avenging an 83-85 overtime loss to the Cyclones 10 days ago at Columbia.

Stewart split his night's production almost evenly scoring 16 in the first half and 21 in the second half. Early in the first half he hit 5 straight from the field as the Tigers gained leads of 10 and 12 points. Missouri led at the half 33-23.

Iowa State made its only serious threat late in the final period, climbing to within 1 point at 52-51 and 54-53 before Missouri moved away.

The loss dropped the Cyclones into second place in the conference race at 6-3 as Kansas State held its lead with a 73-59 victory over Nebraska at Manhattan tonight.

Missouri hit 46 per cent of its shots from the field while Iowa State managed only 35. John Crawford led Cyclone scorers with 21 points, 15 of them on free throws.

Nebraska Trampled By K-State

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Kansas State turned up the burners in the Cow Bell Palace here during the second half Monday night and raced to an easy 73-50 win over the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Trailing only 35-32 at the half, the Huskers once again were unable to beg, borrow or steal a basket after the rest period. In fact they dunked only six from the floor during the last 20 minutes.

In the meantime, the Wildcats—red-hot in quest of the Big Seven bunting—scored at will.

Fritz Schneider, who opened the game well-warmed, did it again in the second half, hitting two quick fielders and a pair of free throws to make it 41-34.

Nebraska, with Don Smidt and Charlie Smith helping, cut the margin to 45-39 before Pacin Vicens and big Jack Parr tallied and it was 47-41.

At that point Husker Smith fouled out—22 left—and K-State turned on the fire, but good. In the last 12 minutes the Huskers could get but three baskets and three free tosses.

And during the same time, Schneider, Vicens and Parr—with the aid of Dick Stone and Hayden Abbott—continued to make shambles of the Nebraska defenses.

And indication of the Cornhuskers' inability to hit is the fact that they made good on only 17 of 68 shots—25 per cent. K-State scored at a 38 per cent clip.

Smidt was high for Nebraska with 14, while Smith got nine and Ekwall and Kubacki got eight apiece.

Schneider led the Wildcats' balanced attack with 20 points, eight buckets and four free throws.

Despite numerous mistakes and missed easy shots, the Cornhuskers kept breathing down the Wildcats' necks during the first half which ended with Kansas State in front, 35-32.

Nebraska, after being down seven points with about five minutes to play, knotted the count at 31-31 to 3:35 to play when Smidt cashed in on two free throws.

And three times the Huskers had an opportunity to go ahead, but they couldn't get the pesky ball in the hoop. Layups and taps were there but the ball was taking crazy bounces around the ring.

Then in the last minute Dick Stone scored on a fast break and a corner shot to boost the Wildcats in front.

Smidt led the Huskers in the first half with 10, while Ekwall had eight. Schneider's 10 paced Kansas State.

Don's Contenders Busy Knocking Off Each Other

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

San Francisco goes breezing along in front in college basketball, but while the top teams continue knocking one another about without rhyme or much reason, it's hard to say who is second to the unbeaten Dons.

Illinois moved into the No. 2 spot in this week's Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters mainly because the other leading contenders managed to get beaten.

During the past week, Louisville, which had been down in fourth place, was conked by Xavier of Cincinnati. Louisville then bounced back to knock Dayton out of the runner-up spot and Dayton promptly smacked Xavier.

In the South's two big leagues, Vanderbilt tuned up for a rematch with Kentucky by beating Tulane and Tennessee, Alabama whipped Florida and Tulane and Kentucky dropped a non-conference game to DePaul in Chicago; North Carolina State seriously damaged Duke's hopes then was upset by Maryland and North Carolina got past spoiler Wake Forest.

Retained Ranking

As a result of all that, only San Francisco among the first 10 teams retained the ranking it held a week ago. And with most of the major conference races still unsettled, the ballots of the sports writers and broadcasters put the others in this order:

Illinois, Louisville, Dayton, Van-

Illini Wins 16th, Smashes Purdue

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois, the nation's No. 2 team ran up a 33-point second-half lead Monday night and then coasted to its 16th straight victory by whipping Purdue, 102-77, in a Big 10 basketball game.

Kentucky Wins

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Bob Burrow poured in 34 points to lead Kentucky to a 76-55 victory over Vanderbilt Monday night that virtually eliminated the Commodores from the Southeastern Conference basketball race.

Larry Thomas Slighted

Larry Thomas, Lincoln High swimmer, was a member of the winning 200-yard medley relay team in Saturday's state high school championship meet.

It was stated incorrectly in Sunday Journal and Star that Jack Houchen was a member of the team, omitting Thomas's name.

Central, Roca Win In E Tournament

Sprague-Martell Central trounced Burr, 96-11, and Roca nipped Bennet, 38-33, to advance into the semifinals of the Class E district tournament at the Wesleyan gym Monday night.

The teams will meet in the semifinals Thursday night.

Roca jumped to a 10-7 lead at the end of the first period but Bennet battled back and took a 15-13 halftime lead. Roca pulled to a 25-23 lead at the end of the third quarter and boosted the margin four more points in the last period.

Jim Tebo and Arnold Wells led the winners with 14 points each. Tom Schon was high for Bennet with 12.

In the opening game Central disposed of Burr with little trouble. Paced by Ray Palmer and brothers Gary and Ron Nannen the winners held a 60-6 halftime lead and coasted to the second half.

Ord Tips Seward For Central 10 Title

YORK—Ord won the Central 10 Conference playoff game here Monday night, whipping Seward, 64-55 for the loop title.

Ord broke a 4-4 tie with two minutes gone and held the lead for the remainder of the game. Both teams entered the tilt boasting 13-2 records.

Lynn Nelson paced the Ord attack with 26 points. Butch Littly was high for Seward with 14 points.

FALLS CITY—Four teams advanced to semi-final Class D games after wins here in Monday's opening action.

Sacred Heart of Falls City ramblod easily past Table Rock, 83-26, with Melvin Voegelie setting the offensive pace on a 20-point show.

Johnson used a second half spurt to tip Dawson, 44-36. The winners led only 21-20 at the mid-way point.

Verdon rocked Brock, 50-39, behind Ralph German's 19 points. The victors had a 23-11 edge at the half.

Dick Peters was the best individual performer of the day with 27 points in helping Talmage whip Elk Creek, 58-51.

Western Jars Barneston In Class D Play

FAIRBURY — Western, Chester, and Plymouth all tallied victories in the opening round of the Class D tournament here.

In the opener Western, defending Class D champions, showed class as they trampled Barneston, 54-34.

Western picked up after a fairly slow first half and dumped in 29 points to overcome the Barneston team.

The second game pitted the Chester Bulldogs against St. Joseph's of Beatrice, with the Bulldogs coming out on the long end, 44-33.

Plymouth took revenge once again as they slipped past DeWitt, 54-48, in a nip and tuck affair.

Plymouth downed DeWitt in the Homesteader Tourney finals a few weeks ago. Last week DeWitt got revenge and dumped the Pilgrims. Monday's game was the final match for these two rivals and the Pilgrims won once again, although the Panthers led at the half 26-20.

Calhoun Gets TKO Over DeFendis

NEW YORK (AP)—Undeclared RORY Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., ran his winning streak to 18 Monday night by stopping Angelo DeFendis of Brooklyn in five rounds of a television bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

Calhoun weighed 161½, DeFendis 165½.

The referee halted the scheduled 10-round after the rangy 22-year old Brooklynite took a few pounds and was dropped for a five count. The fifth round ended at the count of five and with the bleeding and battered DeFendis still on the canvas, Dr. Alexander Schiff signalled to the referee to end what had become a rout. It goes into the books as a five-round TKO.

It was DeFendis' first knockout defeat and his second loss, both to Calhoun, in a 20-month career. He has won 12.

Calhoun, a sharp, fast and heavy hitter, recorded his ninth knock-out. It was a bristling scrap all the way although Calhoun, a 23-year-old Negro, had a big lead. DeFendis, however, connected with several hard rights and was dangerous until nailed by two smashing rights to the jaw in the fifth.

7 Plainsmen Top 100 Mark

Seven Nebraska Wesleyan University Plainsmen have hit 100 or more points during the 1955-56 campaign, statistics for 21 games released today divulged.

Glenn Reed (346), Foster McGuire (203), Bob Leslie (199), Jack Wood (185), Lowell Johnson (182), Ron Joekel (104) and Lefty Hixson (100), lead the Wesleyan scoring parade.

Although they have dropped 12 of 21 contests, Irv Peterson's start-ups have managed to outscore the opposition by the margin of a single point per game—71.6 to 70.6.

The penalty of excessive fouling early in the year looms large in the statistical report. The Plainsmen have scored 78 more field goals than their opponents but have given considerable ground at the charity lane.

Wesleyan has 580 field goals to 502 for foes. But opponents have hit 477 of 748 charity tosses while the Plainsmen were getting but 347 of 585 for an inept .593 shooting mark.

Planners Tell Problems Brought By Local Area's Growth

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Problems and needs arising from Lincoln's expansion and Lancaster County's growing population were outlined Monday before the League of Women Voters.

Some 150 persons attending the forum held at the Chamber of Commerce heard officials of various planning groups, the city and the county discuss projects in a city-county expansion program.

Projects outlined were a joint city-county building consolidation and expansion of Lincoln's hospitals, a city utilities board, and need for sewer improvements, a major street program, adequate parking, and other civic buildings.

Need New Building

Russell Brehm, chairman of the Lancaster County Board of Commissioners said the "major problem confronting the county today is the need for a new building."

The present courthouse was built in 1888 at a cost of $125,000 when the county's population was about 45,000. Today the county has grown to 140,000, and the county is "still doing business in a courthouse built to take care of a county of 50,000 to 75,000."

Major courthouse problems, according to Brehm, are inadequate jury facilities; not enough vault space with the hazard of records being destroyed by fire and water; an inadequate county jail (built five years before the courthouse) which is the "worst in the state and a disgrace to the second largest county."

"Decide In 10 Days"

"Within the next 10 days," Brehm said, "the county board should be in a position to decide in what manner the county will proceed to obtain a new building."

"The decision will be made, however, only after numerous discussions with groups and citizens," he added.

Three methods, outlined by Brehm, were a levy by the county for a building fund requiring 1.5 mills over about five years; a county bond issue for a courthouse, or a city-county building under an Authority issuing revenue bonds.

Brehm reiterated that the county board "stands ready and willing" to co-operate with the city council in getting the city and county needs before the people.

"Steady Hand, Full Cup"

Mayor Clark Jeary, urging a "steady hand for a full cup," said Lincoln has many problems confronting its government and citizenry.

One need, requiring a charter amendment, would be the appointment of a "Utilities Board," to lighten the duties of a part-time city council regarding the city's water and light departments.

Pointing out that each utility does a million dollars worth of business annually, Jeary said "that's big business" requiring a board of directors apart from the council and the volunteer services of a citizens power committee.

Board details would be patterned after the experience of Omaha and other large cities, Jeary said.

E. J. Faulkner, chairman of the City Planning Commission, stressed the "importance of doing a co-ordinated and comprehensible job" in providing for Lincoln's expansion.

Terrific Impact

The impact of a growing population is tremendous, Faulkner said. For every 100 new families, schools require an additional 2.2

elementary classrooms, 1.6 high school classrooms, $30,000 additional payroll, 10,000 more gallons of water daily, $1,500 additional city payroll, 100 new homes, and one more jail cell.

Expansion problems confronting Lincoln are:

1. Need to return sub-standard areas to the tax rolls and for regeneration by private enterprise.
2. Need for a minimum housing standard ordinance. The speaker estimated five percent of Lincoln's dwellings are substandard.
3. Major street program, adequate parking, and storm sewers.
4. Need for a city library, hospital program, and city-county building.

Must Face Up

"Responsible leadership must face up to these needs," Faulkner said, "but cannot spearhead needed improvements without the general approbation of the citizens."

Joe R. Seacrest, president of the Lincoln Community Hospital Advisory Committee, said that "statistically, Lincoln's hospitals haven't grown, but our population has increased 25 per cent."

"The same patient-days total now as in 1948" is not the fault of the doctors or hospital administrators, but is a reflection on the physical plants and facilities and the ability to finance them.

While Lincoln needs 50 more hospital beds, the greater need is for modernization and the bringing to Lincoln the latest in equipment, Seacrest said.

"Lincoln may be close to losing its reputation as a state medical center," Seacrest said. "Omaha will spend $16.5 million by 1960 as compared with the $1.5 million spent by Lincoln."

Hospital Crisis

Seacrest listed these "aspects of Lincoln's hospital crisis:"

1. Availability of matching federal funds before a Sept. 1 deadline.
2. The competitive situation with Omaha. "It's easier to hold the position you have than to win back a lost reputation."
3. The community owes it to itself to provide the best plant possible for hospital and medical care.

C. C. Kimball, chairman of the Joint City-County Building Committee, said the study of a possible joint building goes back for years, but was recently revived by enabling legislation for a Joint Building Authority.

The committee's study, Kimball said, showed both the city and county buildings are in a state of obsolescence and deterioration and both need immediate replacement.

The report urged consolidation of city and county departments where possible in a joint building, including jail, assessing and tax collecting agencies and courts.

Space estimates are given as 130,000 square-feet of which the county would use 58 per cent and the city 42 per cent. Estimated cost of building was $3.5 million, Kimball said.

Mrs. C. W. Whittaker, president of the Lincoln League of Women Voters, presided at the luncheon meeting.

Clinton School Hit; Police Quiz Youth

Clinton School was added to the list of schools victimized during the past two weeks by burglars termed by police as juveniles.

A 16-year-old youth was questioned by police Monday in the series of break-ins, all of which have been following a similar plan. The east door at Clinton, 29th and Holdrege, was smashed in, apparently with a rock, and offices inside entered. Desk drawers showed they had been entered, but police reported nothing missing. Several burned matches were found around the building.

Previously, Lincoln High School, Northeast High, Belmont, and Union College had been burglarized. Money and watches have been reported stolen in the previous thefts.

The youth questioned by police Monday was turned over to County Juvenile Officers. The boy had also been questioned in connection with the theft of auto accessories from three cars parked on a lot at 19th and Vine.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

All Ordinances Need Majority Council Vote

The City Council has passed an ordinance on third and final reading which eliminates the possibility of disposing of any ordinance without a majority vote of the Council.

The new law, advocated by Councilman Rees Wilkinson, makes it mandatory to lay over for another vote of the Council any ordinance which fails to receive at least four voted either for or against it.

Previously, if an ordinance received a split three to three vote, it was dead unless brought up again at the next meeting of the Council on a motion by one member who voted against the measure.

Now, a split vote automatically calls for another vote at the next meeting and at each succeeding meeting until a majority vote is obtained.

Other ordinances passed on third reading:

Paving of Y. 66th to 70th.

Paving of 56th, South to Summer; Franklin, 56th to 57th; and Saylor, 55th to 57th.

Paving of 46th, J to Randolph.

The Reservists, who were flown to Miami Sunday in five transport planes, are officers and enlisted men from Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. Personnel from Fighter Squadron 761, Fleet Air Support Squadron 761 and Air Wing Staff 76 are participating.

The training duty is required as a part of the Reservists' training program which includes drilling one weekend each month at the station. The purpose of the training duty is to give the squadrons an opportunity to drill together for a concentrated period during which they will make use of facilities such as rocket, bombing and gunnery practice which are not available while drilling at Lincoln.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge...

The small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

JAYNE'S P-W for PIN-WORMS

King of England. She writes: "Rather late in life I found myself not only in love but loved as few modern women could ever expect to be loved with a great throne at stake, a vast empire seething, and with the most obscure details of my previously unnoticed existence reverberating in the four corners of the earth—when these took me, slowly at first, then with the rush of an avalanche, I was unprepared and unarmed."

"Nothing that I had known before or learned seemed to apply to my new circumstances. I stood quite alone and defenseless in the eye of the storm. Mistakes were made by me and others whom

I might have influenced but for the lack of communication and understanding.

"Had I had my way, when at the eleventh hour full understanding finally came to me, this story would have had a different ending, if indeed there had been occasion to write it at all."

A sidelight in the first quarter of the duchess' autobiography, "This is My Side of The Story," is her admission that she rarely looked before she leaped:

"With me, however, it has been a case of just landing, and more often than not in defiance of the maxim of never leaping before taking a prudent look. Quite apart from other differences, women seem to be divided into two groups—those who reason and those who are forever casting about for reasons for their own lack of reason. While I might wish it to the contrary, the record of my life now that I have for the first time attempted to see it whole, places me with the second group. And I see something more: this has been, if not my personal tragedy, my continuing folly."

Small Truckers Ask Lower Minimum

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The small truckers association appeared before the state Railway Commission Monday in an effort to have reduced the $3.09 minimum rate on shipments over 50 miles imposed last year at the request of the Nebraska Motor Carriers Association. The hearing was continued to Tuesday.

The small truckers presented a parade of witnesses, many of them operating only one of a few trucks, who protested that they were losing minimum shipments to the railroads and that bulk shipments were following the small lots.

"Farmers are our bread and butter," Mervin Meierdick, Pender, told the Commission. He said farmers were buying as little as possible due to the depressed prices they are receiving for their products and as a result insist on the lowest possible price for things they purchase.

T. H. Troxel of Dutton, Lanson, Hastings, said 80 per cent of his firm's shipments have been diverted from trucks to railroads. He questioned that $1.38 would be profitable to truckers but said they could not meet the $2 rate competition of Denver to western Nebraska nor the $1.25 rate to northeast Nebraska from Sioux City, Ia.

Marvin Meiers, Pender, implement dealer, said he is losing trade to Omaha, Sioux City, and Lincoln because of the increase in the minimum rate on truck shipments.

C of C Representative

Another witness was Thurston Assessor H. K. Hancock, who appeared at the hearing as secretary of the Pender Chamber of Commerce.

Hancock declared he had "heard absolutely no sentiment in favor of the rate increase."

M. A. Elbourn, Lincoln, representative of a Texas candy company which recently opened a store in Omaha and plans another in Lincoln, said the effect of the rate increase has been to double the concern's shipping costs.

End clogged-up nose sleep better tonight

Thousands find this method keeps nose clear all night long

Dry or dusty air, "smog," a head cold, overheated room, allergy... all can cause night nose clogging, spoiling your sleep and forcing you into harmful mouth breathing.

Thousands have found that Mentholatum quickly ends this annoying problem. Just apply Mentholatum in each nostril at bedtime. Instantly your nose feels clearer and, during the night, Mentholatum's soothing action relieves that dry, stuffy feeling. Congestion eases and you breathe normally through your nose.

Why Mouth Breathing is Harmful

When a clogged nose forces you to breathe through your mouth, you send chilled dry air, laden with dust and germs, directly into your lungs. This and snoring, of course, go hand in hand. Mentholatum in the nose at night ends harmful mouth breathing.

Could Have Driven Reds Beyond Yalu—Ridgway

... But Doubts Price Worth It

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway says he is confident his 8th Army in Korea could have driven the Chinese Reds beyond the Yalu River in 1951 "if this country had been willing to pay the price in lives."

"I strongly doubt that such a victory would have been worth the cost," Ridgway adds, "particularly in light of the fact that our government seemed to have no firm policy on what steps to take thereafter."

"Seizure of the line of the Yalu and the Tumen would have been merely the seizure of more real estate."

Writing the last of a series of articles in the Saturday Evening Post, the former Army chief of staff gives this summation of what the military picture would have been had the 8th Army driven to the Yalu after the Chinese Reds entered the fighting.

"It would have greatly shortened the enemy's supply lines and greatly lengthened our own. It would have widened our front from 110 miles to 420, and beyond that front would lie Manchuria and the whole mainland of Asia, in which all the wealth and manpower of this country could have been lost and dissipated."

JOBLESS MEN RIOT IN ITALY ASKING RELIEF

FOGGIA, Italy (AP) — Thousands of jobless workers battled police in this bleak city Monday as Communist-led rioting spread through winter-stricken southern Italy.

Denouncing more winter relief, men and women tried to storm the Foggia City Hall and headquarters of the Italian government prefect. They fought with stones, clubs and knives.

They were driven off by streams from fire hoses and a tear gas barrage. Three riot police were seriously injured and 12 rioters received bruises.

Ordinance Asks Change In Liquor Violations Law

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

An ordinance has been introduced to the City Council to amend the present liquor law and make the violation of any city ordinance cause for revocation of a liquor license.

The issue arose when one of off-sale beer licensee failed to cooperate with police in settling a disturbance outside his place of business. The failure to co-operate was a violation of city ordinance but, being not part of the liquor law, was not grounds for consideration of revocation of the operator's license.

Under the new amendment, a licensee who violates any city ordinance can be called to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

The new ordinance will simply strike from the existing measure a provision which set the maximum number of such single connections that could be made. Under the old law, no more than two services could be connected to a 3/4 inch main, no more than four to a one-inch main, no more than eight to one and one-half inch main and no more than 12 to a two-inch main.

This led persons to believe that many connections could be made while it was actually a maximum number that was never permitted in reality, explained Public Works Director D. L. Erickson. The number of connections to a single main will now be controlled solely by permits issued by the water department for each connection.

Flying Rule Considered

Another ordinance was introduced to consolidate the city's regulations governing flying at Union and Municipal Airport. Previously, a separate set of regulations governed each field.

Now, both sets of regulations will be consolidated to apply at both fields. The consolidated measure will contain nothing that is not found in one or the other separate measures.

The rules were suspended and both the water main connections and flying regulations ordinance were given first and second readings. The following ordinances were introduced and given first reading:

Plat of Park Manor East at South and Broadmoor.

Pier'son's re-plat at 46th and Van Dorn.

Alles re-plat at 50th and M.

Vacation of the north-south alley from Newton to Glade between 58th and 59th.

Change in zoning from single family to two family residential of four lots in Alles re-plat.

The new resolution set out in writing the previous unwritten Council policy. The previous written regulations had permitted licenses in other areas of the city at the discretion of the Council but locations outside the foot-patrolled area had never been approved.

The only exception to the policy is Havelock, where licenses are permitted and now in existence on Havelock Ave. between 60th and 63rd.

The new resolution also fixes the number of beer and liquor licenses that will be permitted at the existing number. There are now 42 on and off-sale beer licenses, eight off-sale beer and 30 liquor licenses.

Nebraska Road Traffic Increases 64% In 15 Years

An increase of 64 per cent in 15 years of traffic on Nebraska's rural roads and state highways was reported by the Department of Roads and Irrigation.

Traffic counts by automatic recorders at 15 strategic places over the state are the basis for the analysis.

Average daily vehicle count at specific locations compared with the figure of 15 years ago:

U.S. 30 west of Elm Creek: 3,452 in 1955, 1,840 in 1941.

City Freezes Beer, Liquor Stores At Existing Limits

Beer and liquor licenses will be confined to the foot patrolled downtown area of the city under terms of a resolution approved unanimously by the City Council.

The new resolution set out in writing the previous unwritten Council policy. The previous written regulations had permitted licenses in other areas of the city at the discretion of the Council but locations outside the foot-patrolled area had never been approved.

The only exception to the policy is Havelock, where licenses are permitted and now in existence on Havelock Ave. between 60th and 63rd.

The new resolution also fixes the number of beer and liquor licenses that will be permitted at the existing number. There are now 42 on and off-sale beer licenses, eight off-sale beer and 30 liquor licenses.

'Creepy-Peepy' One-Man TV Transmitter Unveiled By Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Monday took the wraps off its latest development for the battlefield—a television camera and a transmitter so light it can be carried by one man.

Nicknamed the "Creepy-peepy," the portable camera weighs eight pounds and the transmitter, complete with built-in battery power supply, weighs 47. The Army said the equipment will produce an image "equal to or better than commercial quality" television.

The new equipment was developed by the Army Signal Corps engineering laboratories at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. It is being produced by the Radio Corporation of America for the Signal Corps.

Save the Observers

The Army envisages the use of the "Creepy-Peepy" on the battlefield to reduce casualties among forward observers. The camera and transmitter would be put in place under cover of darkness. The operator would then withdraw to safety. The camera, activated by an electric signal, would produce automatically a two-hour record of everything within range of its lenses.

The Army said pictures can be picked up as far as one mile from the camera.

The receiving station would be carried in a jeep on the battlefield. Monitors in the jeep could receive pictures from as many as five cameras reporting from different parts of a combat field.

Running Record

From the mobile receiving station, a TV report of what was taking place at the front could be relayed to headquarters, providing the commanding officer with a running picture record.

on a 10-inch tube.

Although the equipment can operate automatically, it has been designed for manual handling. There is a pistol grip to help the forward observer steady his aim.

The Army suggested that the portable television outfit, although designed for combat use, might be valuable in commercial fields.

For News?

Its announcement suggested that in the hands of a newspaperman or TV reporter, the camera could help cover fast-breaking stories "such as fires, recorded from rooftops, arrival of dignitaries at airports and aircraft wrecks on craggy mountainsides."

The Army suggested also that such a TV camera, not tied to cumbersome cables, might be useful in covering "presidential nominating conventions or for sports events."

The Army said that it has tested the "Creepy-Peepy" with its older "Handy-Talkie" portable radio apparatus. When used together, the two pieces of equipment would enable a military headquarters to see and hear what might be going on in the front lines.

Switch Knives Banned In City

An ordinance banning the sale or possession of switch knives has passed the City Council on third and final reading.

The ordinance will prohibit the sale or possession of a switch knife by any person. The sale to or possession by a minor of any knife with a blade of three inches or more is also outlawed.

A switch blade knife is one which snaps open at the touch of a button.

The ordinance had been recommended by the juvenile division of the Police Department. Sgt. Gale Gade, head of the division, has stated that the switch blade knives were being carried by one out of three junior high school students.

East Van Dorn To Be Paved 30 Feet Wide

An ordinance for the creation of a paving district on Van Dorn from 40th to 48th has passed the City Council on third and final reading with the width of the street set at 30 feet.

Opinions of city administration officials had been split in favor of either a 26 or 38 foot width. Public Works Director D. L. Erickson presented figures which showed the 30-foot paving will cost the city $4,333 more than the 26 foot width.

For a 26-foot width, the cost would be $45,000 and could all be assessed against abutting property owners. All costs in excess of a 26-foot width would have to be absorbed by the city.

To go to 38 feet would have cost the city $13,000, according to Erickson. He argued that the funds were not available for a greater width.

Van Dorn was presented as a major arterial which needed a 38-foot width by Capt. Willis Manchester of the Police Department traffic division and Planning Engineer Douglas Brogren.

A 16-year-old boy has been charged with reckless driving as a result of a wild chase by police that resulted in his arrest early Sunday morning.

The complaint was filed in Municipal Court. Arraignment is set for Feb. 27.
